

The Research Wing at St. Xavier's Kathmandu wants to make a difference in the knowledge platform of our country. We believe that we can produce knowledge that no other country in the world can produce. Our goal is to compete in the world arena of knowledge with challenging proposals that can create our future.

Through this program we also want to create leaders. A leader pushes the frontiers. A researcher is a leader because he or she pushes the frontiers of knowledge.

We believe in researches that can change the world. Specifically, our desire is that the knowledge we generate must contribute in some way to the development of the disadvantaged communities in our country.

We also believe in generating knowledge with minimum cost. We want to show it to our nation that genuine research can be done with systematic hard work, perseverance and scholarly guidance even when huge funds are unavailable.

We believe that creation of knowledge is its own reward.

The Structure of the Research Wing:

